Profiles of JOY

Not Waiting for Heaven to Make a Difference

If a picture's worth a thousand words, Paul Kulha could fill a library. At his home, photo albums overflow with images of the life he shared with his wife, Marilyn. There are flowers she tended and dogs posing for the camera. Snapshots of the two of them as clowns in the Thanksgiving parade and quilts she made with her church group.

Paul says, "A good picture tells a story. It's a study in all that God provides." He trained as a photographer while serving in the U.S. Navy during the Korean War. It's a skill he has used ever since.

Years ago, Paul and Marilyn discovered the joy that comes with sharing their time and money. They decided to share their blessings to make a difference. This commitment brought them to InFaith Community Foundation where they created a donor advised fund to provide scholarships for veterinary students upon both of their deaths.

Making a Difference Now in Wife's Memory

Though Marilyn passed away in 2015, Paul still reflects on her loving influence in his life and decided to honor her by making an additional gift. "I realized I don't want to wait until I'm in heaven to make a significant difference," he says. "It feels good to honor Marilyn now by supporting the causes she cared about most."

Paul is using required minimum distributions (RMDs) from his individual retirement account (IRA) to create a second charitable fund. This fund supports organizations that make a difference in the lives of children and animals, which Marilyn loved. "Marilyn shared and taught me love and the joy that comes from giving," Paul shares. "It is in her memory that I continue to give some of the gifts that God has given me."

Ways to Give Through InFaith

For more than 20 years, InFaith has helped donors create donor advised funds supporting charities and causes that mean the most to them. Some donors create a charitable legacy occurring upon death, others choose to make a difference while living. Some donors choose to do both—give now, while living, and later, upon death.

At InFaith, you can give now to support favorite charities and give later to create a legacy upon death. Whatever path you choose, we invite you to call us at 800.365.4172 with any questions you may have. InFaith is here to help you take action on your faith, values and life experiences through giving.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

In 2016, InFaith Community Foundation launched WomenGive InFaith for women who want to educate, advocate and activate for causes that are important to them. "Women have been at the forefront of giving through InFaith for more than 20 years," says Chris Andersen, InFaith executive director. "This campaign is rooted in our Christian faith and serves women who seek to make a difference in the lives of others."

WomenGive programs include:

Workshops – WomenDiscover workshops create space for women to explore the passion and joy of giving.

WomenLead – Provides annual scholarship for women seeking to create change.

Giving Circles – Women and men can now create their own giving circles through InFaith.

WomenInvest InFaith – Like other InFaith portfolios, WomenInvest seeks to provide maximum sustained support to charities. By investing in companies that do well when women do well, it addresses the root causes of violence against women.
