

ROTH IRA CONVERSION & CHARITABLE GIVING

Are you considering converting your traditional IRA to a Roth IRA? You may be able to lessen the tax impact through charitable giving.

A common issue with converting a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA is how to pay for the income tax generated from the conversion. Consider giving cash, stock, mutual funds or real estate to InFaith Community Foundation and receive a charitable deduction that may be used to offset some of the taxable income generated from a Roth IRA conversion. InFaith can assist you in identifying charitable giving options that complement your financial goals, including a Roth IRA conversion.

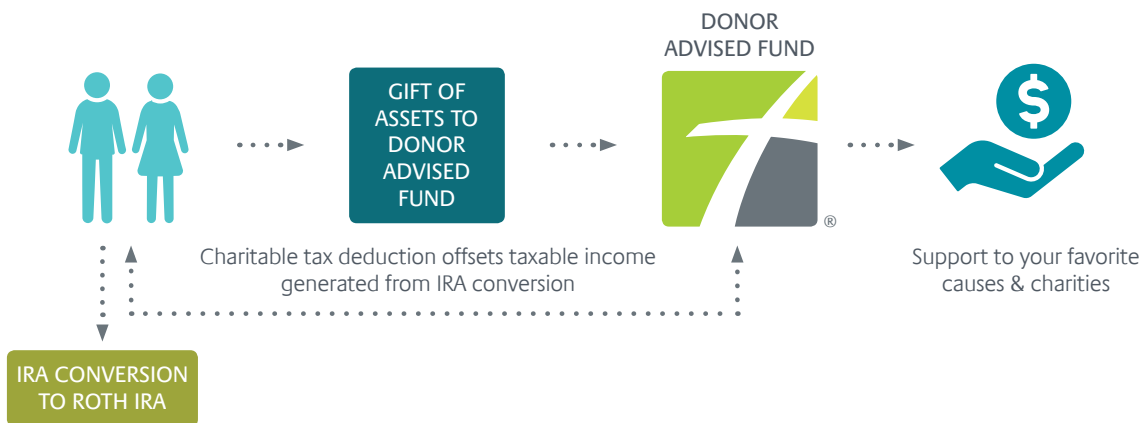

BENEFITS OF GIVING

By making a charitable gift at the time of your Roth IRA conversion, you can offset tax liabilities associated with the Roth IRA conversion. By giving to a donor advised fund at InFaith, you can:

- Have the flexibility to give to causes and charities that match your giving interests and the freedom to make changes in the future. You can provide immediate and long-term charitable support, and remain anonymous if you wish.
- Fulfill your charitable giving goals, involving family in your giving plan if you wish.
- Offset tax liabilities when converting to a Roth IRA.
- Maximize estate planning with traditional and Roth IRAs.

Roth IRA conversions involve important timing and tax considerations. Please consult with your tax or legal professionals prior to making a gift. Gifts to charity are irrevocable.

DONOR STORY

Gift of Stock

The Donor. A woman wanted to convert part of her traditional IRA to a Roth IRA. She also owned some highly appreciated stock in a separate portfolio she wanted to liquidate.

Her Gift. Through her charitable gift of stock, she received a charitable deduction equal to the fair market value of the stock that could be used to help offset some of the income realized in the Roth IRA conversion. She now makes grant recommendations from her donor advised fund to her favorite charities.

Gift to Create Income

The Donor. A man with highly-appreciated real estate was concerned about the taxes he would pay on the sale. He also wanted to convert his traditional IRA to a Roth IRA and leave it to his children upon his death.

His Gift. He gave the real estate to a charitable remainder unitrust at InFaith. The trust sold the real estate tax free and makes income payments to the donor for the rest of his life. The gift of real estate to the trust generated a charitable deduction he used to help offset some of the income realized by the Roth IRA conversion. Upon his death, the remainder amount from his trust will be used to create a donor advised fund that will provide grants in his name to his recommended charities.

Charitable giving can result in significant tax, legal and financial consequences. Because InFaith Community Foundation cannot give tax or legal advice, you are strongly encouraged to consult with your personal tax and legal advisors.
